During manuscript submission, authors must confirm the following:

1. The submitting author has obtained permission from all co-authors to submit the manuscript.
2. Originality – The manuscript is original, has not been published elsewhere, and is not under consideration by another journal.
3. The submission does not infringe any existing copyright or third-party rights.
4. The authors grant permission for the article to be published under the CC BY-NC 4.0 license, allowing non-commercial use and adaptation with proper attribution.
5. The authors retain full copyright ownership, and if applicable, employer rights are preserved.
6. The authors assume full responsibility for any copyright infringement claims.
7. The manuscript contains no illegal content, and no unlawful methods were used in the research.
